Salem Industries, Geared to Reconversion, Face Rosy Future

A composite picture of Salem industry's part in the war effort and its plans for the future is one that cannot help but produce a feeling of optimism and pride in the community.

A survey of Salem's industrial plants reveals a large amount of expansion in plant capacities anticipated and already under way.

Nearly every concern is either planning expansion, has recently added to its facilities or has plant or office expansion among its plans for the near future.

Although employment figures here reached a peak during the war, total employment was not greatly affected by the close of hostilities and consequently Salem can look to the future with anticipation of even fuller employment than at some periods during the war.

Increases in plant personnel alone will reach approximately 700 if current plans of industries are carried out, the survey shows.

Plants here are swinging and have swung into peacetime pursuits and for the most part the products are the same as before the war.

Only one war-time plant, the Columbia Lamp works, a subsidiary of General Electric, closed when the war ended and it was definitely a "war baby," having moved to Salem after the war started in 1941.

Salem's production part in the war was varied. Shells, tank parts, castings put to vital war uses, large mill machinery, aircraft light fixtures and bulbs, large and small pumps for hundreds of different war uses, valves, couplings, rolling mills, dies, patterns, jigs and a host of other war necessities were turned out of local plants in quantities and with speed previously unbelievable.

Outgrowths of the war effort included the United Tool and Die Co., the Lincoln Machine Co., and the Schnell Tool & Die Co., all of which expect to continue in operation.

They have played vital parts in war production, doing important technical work through prime and sub-contract plants.

Salem's major industries, those employing the largest numbers of workers, contributed important wartime accomplishments.

Mullins Mfg. Corp., the National Sanitary Co., the Electric Furnace Co., Deming Co., the E. W. Bliss Co. plants were turned over to war pursuits and made excellent records of production.

The Salem Engineering Co., a firm composed mostly of technicians and engineers, had an important part in many war ventures, one of the most important of which was the famed "Manhattan Project" (the atomic bomb).

C. B. Hunt & Son Co., Inc., producers of air and hydraulic operating valves, air and hydraulic hose couplings and buffing wheels, supplied a long list of direct prime war contractors as well as a host of indirect and sub-contract war manufacturing concerns.

The Pittsburgh Foundry and the Quaker City Foundry, both specialists in fine grade grey iron castings and semi-steel castings, were engaged throughout the war in production of castings for war-related industry.

Deming pumps, known throughout the world, were furnished for use by nearly every U. S. government department and agency and for many of the largest and most important war industries.

The Electric Furnace Co., large designer and manufacturer of industrial electrical and fuel-fired furnaces and kilns for industrial heating and heat-treating processes, did work for a varied field of war industries and produced equipment in larger quantities than ever before.

Both the National Sanitary and Mullins plants were engaged in production of shell casings for military use and both contributed other skills and work to the war effort.

Mullins was the only Salem plant to earn the Army-Navy E award for production and this concern won four additional stars to its original award.

The Salem Tool Co. halted its pre-war line of butchers' and miners' tools, agricultural tools and stampings and swung its production capacity directly into war work. Reconversion to the pre-war products and production of parts for McCarthy earth-boring machines is now an accomplished fact.

Expansion programs are under way at the Salem China, Mullins, National Sanitary, Bliss, Deming and Gonda plants.

Expansions are anticipated in other concerns, but definite announcements of the projects are being withheld until final arrangements are complete.

Not one manufacturing concern here gave any indication of anticipated cutbacks in employment or production. In most instances officials of the firms indicated that increases in employment and business were the expected thing.

The trend here, from these observations, seems to be toward greater industrial activity than during the war period.

All local plants are taking back their pre-war employees who entered service and many are finding places for veterans who are returning without pre-war working experience.

Apprentice plans in operation in the various plants before the war are being continued, with increases noted generally now that younger men are seeking places in industry.

Industrially speaking, the future here looks bright and current trends indicate a prosperous and active period for factory-working Salem, which is, incidentally, one of the most "industrialized" cities of its size in Ohio.

18 KILLED IN OHIO TRAFFIC

Death Toll In Cleveland Reaches 98 As Four Die In Mishaps

(By Associated Press)

A pedestrian's throat was slashed by a hit-skip motorist, four persons were killed pushing vehicles and a woman dropped dead hurrying to an accident scene in a wave of unusual Ohio traffic fatalities as at least 18 persons died in weekend mishaps throughout the state.

The body of Simon Smart, 78, with pieces of broken auto mirror imbedded in the throat, was found along the road near his Jeffersonville home yesterday, and Sheriff Orland Hayes of Fayette county said he apparently was the victim of a side-swiping hit-skip driver.

The sheriff found other pieces of the rear-view mirror nearby.

3 Die At Sandusky

Three Sandusky residents were killed pushing vehicles. Roy Adams, 18, met death trying to push his stalled car off a New York Central railroad crossing. He was hit by a train.

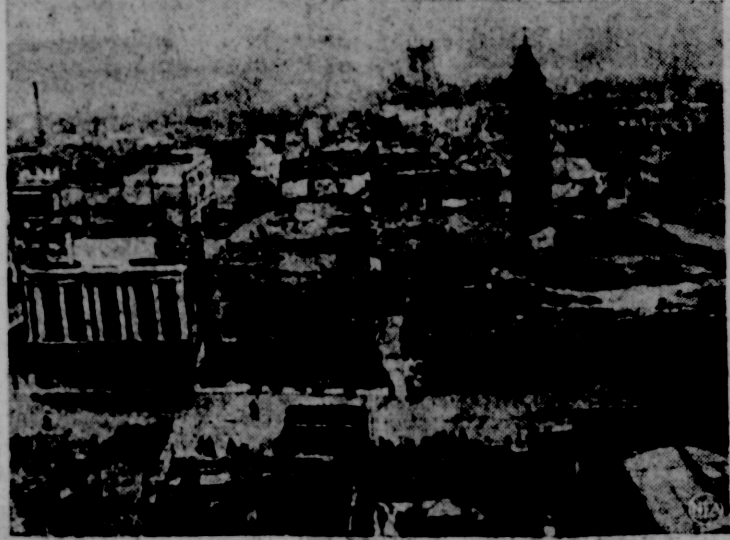

Edwin Stanislawski, 23, and Leslie E. Rice, 45, were killed when an auto crashed into an unlighted cart they were wheeling, police reported.

Chester Jaskolski, 27, of Cleveland, was killed by an automobile as he pushed his own car along the street.

Emil Peters, 54, was killed in another Cleveland mishap, and Mrs. Mary Rochetti, 70, dropped dead of a heart attack as she rushed

Sparkling New Coventry To Rise From Rubble of Nazi Destruction

Almost completely blown off the earth by German terroristic bombing in the 1940 blitz, the historic town of Coventry, England, will be rebuilt as one of the world's finest modern cities. Patton Partially Paralyzed By Traffic Accident Injury

(By Associated Press)

MANNHEIM, Dec. 10.—Gen. George S. Patton lay partially paralyzed today in Heidelberg hospital as prominent nerve specialists were summoned from England and the United States to treat spinal injuries he received in an automobile accident yesterday.

An army medical bulletin said Patton's general condition was satisfactory, that he was completely rational and had spent a comfortable night but declined to forecast the probable course of a paralysis of the lower limbs resulting from a simple fracture of the third cervical vertebrae.

Hurrying to his side by plane were his wife and a neuro-surgery specialist, Col. R. G. Spurling of Louisville, Ky. Already at the hospital are Maj. Gen. A. W. Kenner, theater surgeon, and Prof. Hugh Barnes, a British specialist who had been flown from Oxford at the request of Mrs. Patton.

Mrs. Patton was expected to arrive in Paris tomorrow morning and go from there to Heidelberg either by rail or air.

An official army bulletin issued at the hospital said the fiery general had passed a restful night.

Two Others Unhurt

The accident occurred when an Army truck reportedly turned off a side road into the autobahn (super highway) and crashed into Patton's sedan. Patton and his chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Hobart R. Gay, had left U. S. 15th army headquarters at Ban Nauheim yesterday morning to go pleasant hunting near Mannheim. Gay and the driver, Maj. Horace Woodring, were unhurt.

A combat engineering unit commanded by Maj. Charles Tucker of New Hamburg, N. Y., was summoned by a Red Cross girl and found Patton slumped in the rear seat of his sedan. An eye-witness said Patton's face was covered with blood from cuts suffered when he was thrown forward by the impact of the crash.

The accident occurred on the 60th birthday last month, has been commanding the 15th army since Oct. 2 when he was relieved of his command of the famous Third army, which he led from Normandy to Czechoslovakia. He previously had won fame in North Africa and Sicily. The 15th has been a "paper" army, primarily concerned with preparing reports on lessons of the war.

Patton has indicated the command of the 15th army was not the sort of military job he liked, and it is believed he planned to retire at the end of his present assignment, within the next few months.

"Old Blood and Guts," the name by which Patton was universally known, had said that when and if he did retire, he would devote himself to sailing, fishing and hunting.

SCHWELLENBACH URGES GM, UAW TO SETTLE ROW

(By Associated Press)

DETROIT, Dec. 10.—Secretary of Labor Schwollenbach, declaring the government has the power to seize the struck plants of General Motors Corp. but would not exercise it, called on both sides today to settle their dispute "as soon as possible."

The secretary told a press conference it was "extremely important" to the "economic life" of the nation that an early settlement be achieved in the walkout which has made 213,000 General Motors workers idle since Nov. 21.

Schwollenbach, in Detroit for a speech tonight, included in his comments on the CIO-United Auto Workers strike at GM a defense of President Truman's legislative proposals to help labor peace in general.

Asserting there was no desire on the part of the President to "destroy" labor unions, Schwollenbach pointed to Mr. Truman's "long record of friendship for labor."

Schwollenbach said he would testify in Congress in support of President Truman's proposal for the naming of fact-finding bodies to act in major labor disputes.

New Car Price Approval Would End Dispute In 10 Days, He Says

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—John L. Lewis delivered a triple blast today against the government, the General Motors Co. and the CIO-United Automobile Workers in connection with the current automobile strike.

The United Mine Workers chief told the house labor committee the government could settle the strike in 10 days if it would allow the manufacturers a price which would permit a "fair profit." He termed the company's position in the dispute "dishonest" and characterized the UAW's explanation of its strike as "stupid."

Lewis voiced his criticism while testifying against legislation proposed by President Truman to set up fact-finding boards to recommend solution of major industrial disputes.

Too Many Loopholes

He referred to the President's proposal as an "evil, vile-smelling mess... full of dozens of loopholes that would make it unworkable," and said it was designed only to "appease and protect a few millionaires who find themselves frightened by the growing strength of labor."

Turning to the General Motors strike, he declared:

"They (General Motors) are making more money now not making cars than if they were producing them full blast, because of the present tax laws.

"And the poor blundering leaders of the UAW picked this time of all times to shut down General Motors, when it would make more money not operating than producing."

The dishonesty on one side by the company is equal only to the stupidity on the other side for that labor organization.

"I hope congress won't equal that stupidity by enacting this proposed legislation for fact-finding boards.

"If you take away my liberty, I fight you, I care not who you are. I pay that for myself and I say that for labor."

Mr. Truman's plan is incorporated in a bill which would employ fact-finding boards to recommend solutions of major industrial disputes. The measure would authorize 30-day bans on strikes while the board functioned.

Cites His Reasons

Attacking several sections of the suggested legislation, Lewis asserted:

"Why should the $5,000,000 gainfully employed persons of this nation be placed in statutory limbo by this legislation?"

"This measure would restrict the privilege of free labor. It would neutralize labor's strength," he added.

"When industry and finance make such proposals they are guilty of taking the first step to create a corporate or absolute state which in the end would regulate the activities of all citizens."

Lewis told the committee the legislation would "impose on labor a form of compulsory arbitration."

COLD WEATHER ENDS 'SPRING'

Mercury Tumbles from 50 Degrees Yesterday To 25 Today

Yesterday's spring-like weather was short-lived.

A cold wave, sweeping in from the west, sent the mercury tumbling last night from a 50 degree high on Sunday. Snow flurries added to the taste of winter weather today.

By midnight the temperature had dropped to 25 and it was still 25 at noon today.

A cold belt with temperatures ranging from 15 below zero to below freezing extended from the Rocky mountains east almost to the Appalachians, with the exception of the west gulf coast.

Sub-zero temperatures covered Minnesota and the Dakotas, as well as points in Nebraska, Iowa, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and Wisconsin. The lowest reading reported by the U. S. Weather bureau for the last 24 hours was 18 below zero at Minot, N. D.

The Chicago low was 11 above.

Snow or sleet was falling early Monday at points in Kentucky and Tennessee and flurries were general in the Great Lakes region, but the only amounts of consequence during the last 24 hours fell in upper Michigan, where from two to four inches was laid down at isolated points.

In general the cold weather is expected to continue through Wednesday.

The officers are:

President, E. K. Berg of Novely; vice president, R. V. Gelb of Coshocton; secretary-treasurer, S. M. Salisbury of Columbus. Other members of the executive committee are:

R. H. Barr of Canton; Howard Zeigler of Clyde; Charles Johnson of Kenton and Alfred Roediger of Wapakoneta.

Directors Named

The ten district directors are: John Westrick of Defiance; Clyde Stacy of Green Springs; E. K. Berg of Novely; A. H. Roediger of Wapakoneta; Ralph Yaeger of Mt. Vernon; H. D. Andreas of Beach City; William K. Lukens of Waynesville; O. C. Belt of Columbus; Randall Ross of Cambridge and Homer Call of Athens.

Directors at large include Charles Blackman and J. D. Bragg of Columbus; B. O. Skinner of Marysville; L. L. Rummell of Cincinnati and P. S. Barlow of Wooster.

"Some people are going to get burned in high cattle prices," warned Prof. Fordyce Ely, Lexington, Ky., who discussed "What is Ahead for the Dairyman."

Ely pointed out that the OPA had not put a ceiling price on cattle and as a result some have been selling at exorbitant prices. However, attendance rose sharply at the High school this morning where a number of new cases was offset by the return of 150 students to classes.

A slight increase in absenteeism was noted in the elementary schools and among members of the teaching staffs. Supt. Kerr stated, however, that this increase was no cause for alarm.

County School Supt. W. E. Roberts said today that schools at East Fairfield, New Waterford and Rogers had been closed because of the flu epidemic and indicated that schools in Yellow Creek and Hanover township might close today.

Schools in Lestonia closed Friday, to remain closed most of the week.

Supt. P. R. Naragon said:

Goshen school at Damascus closed last Wednesday and remained closed today. There was a possibility that school would open tomorrow.

School also has been discontinued at Greenford.

Flu Reaches Peak In Salem Schools

Schools continued to operate in Salem today as the current flu epidemic showed signs of abating.

Supt. E. S. Kerr reported that absenteeism in the city's schools was "almost the same" as on Friday and that, in his opinion, the siege reached its peak during the weekend.

Approximately 35 per cent of the students are ill at present, he said.

Attendance rose sharply at the High school this morning where a number of new cases was offset by the return of 150 students to classes.

PEDESTRIAN HURT WHEN HIT BY CAR

Floyd Ruggly, 395 W. Pershing st., became the fourth auto-pedestrian accident casualty in two months at 12:05 a. m. Sunday when he stepped in front of a car driven by Gene Calvin Davis, R. D. 5, Salem, on W. State st. between N. Howard ave. and N. Elsworth ave.

Ruggly suffered a broken left arm and lacerations of the forehead. He was taken to the Central Clinic.

The victim admitted he stepped into the path of the car as he attempted to cross W. State from the north to the south side.

Pedestrian-auto accidents within the past two months on State st., in the business section, resulted in the death of one victim. Two others received fractured legs.

Two persons escaped probable serious injury when a car in which they were riding overturned after a tire blew out on Route 82, five miles north of Salem, at 6 p. m. Saturday, state patrolmen said.

Edgar Taylor, 60, of Youngstown, suffered bruises of the body and a passenger in the car, Wilson Taylor, 37, of Minerva, received a scalp laceration. Both refused medical aid, patrolmen said.

105 Orphans Still Face Bleak Holiday

Here is an opportunity to make a boy happy on Christmas.

Salem chapter, American Red Cross, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which are cooperating in preparing Christmas gifts for the Fairmount Children's home, report that they still have approximately 105 names which have not been taken.

The names of the girls and small boys have moved rapidly. Miss Hazel Linn, executive secretary of Salem chapter, said. The names of the older boys are left. She appealed today for gifts for these boys.

Persons having names are asked to bring their gifts to the Memorial building by Dec. 19. Miss Linn requests that the gifts be wrapped and with each package a list be made of its contents and suggested that it be marked whether the contents are new or used, so that additions may be made if necessary.

T. B. Program Must Not Be Given Up

Lack of any authority under which they can re-submit the T. B. tax levy to the voters of the county means that the county commissioners are faced with a difficult and somewhat delicate problem of finding funds for this work. They have said that hospitalization of tuberculous cases must be discontinued when this year's appropriation is exhausted. We do not believe they will permit such drastic action. The results would be too serious to even contemplate. Some way must be found to save the situation.

There is only one way, of course, and that is to salvage some of the general fund for this purpose when appropriations for 1946 are made by the commissioners. Their dilemma is created by a cut in the county's share of sales tax distribution and by a sizeable increase in one fund which is mandatory under state law when request for the increase is made. That leaves only one of two courses of action open to the commissioners. One is to abandon aid for tubercular patients, which the officials have hinted might be done. The other is to reduce other appropriations sufficiently to create a T. B. fund, although it might not be as much as is required.

The latter is the only course which will satisfy the people of this county. It is not a pleasant prospect from any point of view. Some county departments might be cut without causing undue hardship while others would have to scrape a bit to make ends meet if their appropriations were reduced. A big start could be made, we believe, by inducing the Soldiers and Sailors Relief commission to slice its requested increase of $15,000 to the bone. It has received as high as $20,000 a year but now it requests $35,000 because of the heavy load anticipated as World War II veterans return. That seems like a tremendous amount in view of volunteer and federal aid already organized to assist the veterans in working out their problems. A reconsideration of actual needs would be a wise and popular move on the part of the veterans commission.

The T. B. program in Columbiana county is too vital to abandon, too important to the welfare of the people even to reduce. Some way must be found to continue it.

Expecting Too Much

One danger implicit in President Truman's proposal for a law to deal with labor disputes as a federal responsibility is the tendency of the public to expect too much from law.

When Congress passed the so-called Smith-Connally bill, in a previous attempt to give labor unions greater responsibility for work stoppages, the public expected too much. Its reaction to disappointment was cynical.

Whatever Congress decides to do now in the way of repealing the Smith-Connally act and creating new federal authority for fact-finding commissions, cooling-off periods and compulsory arbitration, the fact is that labor union leadership will retain the power to make or break the success of all regulations. A further fact, still not realized as widely as it should be, is that part of the present leadership of labor unions is in no manner interested in minimizing work stoppages for the sake of making private enterprise successful. The General Motors strike now in progress and the threatened steel strike are not in the hands of men interested in reaching amicable agreement by means of bona fide collective bargaining. They are in the hands of men who have assumed the right to dictate terms to management and to the public; what they continue to call collective bargaining has become a take-it-or-else edict.

The nature of these men will not be changed by new legislation. The plans they hold for dictating wage contracts are not going to be shelved to make another federal law look good. Their wage dictation credo of "ability to pay" is vastly more important to them than preservation of management's right to manage its capital affairs. What President Truman means and the public thinks he means by proposals to reduce work stoppages is so far from the thing the labor leaders involved are driving at that they are not even speaking the same language. The labor leaders are talking about dividing wealth to meet union demands. Mr. Truman is talking about getting men back to work. That does not mean Mr. Truman's proposal has no merit, but it does mean the public should not expect too much. If labor leaders were interested in getting men back to work and keeping them at work, there would be no strikes or threats of strikes.

A Quid For a Quo

The British House of Commons, like the United States Congress, will hold extended debate on the subject of the multi-billion dollar loan whose terms have just been announced here and in England. By the time both legislatures have aired the matter, it may be a little clearer than it is at the outset what the United States expects to gain from this gigantic credit deal.

Ostensibly, our share of the benefit is to consist chiefly of the privilege of furnishing a large part of the material which Britain intends to buy. It is the equivalent of extending lend-lease, with a promise to pay interest and ultimately to repay the principal, if nothing goes wrong. The other part of the benefit is supposed to be concessions wrung from the British, in the form of agreements not to discriminate against the United States in world trade.

Presumably, the proposition will be approved by Congress. Certainly, it will be approved by the House of Commons. But ultimately the intended benefits must be achieved through the cooperation of the citizens of both nations—and therein lies the weakness of the proposed arrangement. The United States government still has a selling job to do. The American people are far from convinced of the soundness of the loan to be made from their treasury.

Specifically, they do not comprehend what they are to obtain from England. As the proposition stands, it looks as if the United States were going to put up the money, take the risk, furnish the material and obtain for all this no more than England would be obliged to advance if no loan were to be made at all. When these matters were arranged between international bankers, the bankers took responsibility; it was their business. But now it is everybody's business. The American people want to know what they are going to get for risking approximately four and a half billion dollars of their money.

His Defense Is Creditable

The defense of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, convicted by a United States military commission on charges of high crimes and atrocities committed by troops under his command, is creditable. He contends he did not know what was happening; that he lacked conscious knowledge of what was happening.

But neither under the code of military responsibility, nor under the new concept of international law which the trials of war criminals will establish if they are fairly conducted, can ignorance be a valid excuse. Gen. Yamashita cannot deny that the crimes and atrocities for which he was responsible occurred. He can claim only that he did not have knowledge of them and should not be held responsible, therefore. But unless he is held responsible, no one can be held responsible, because he was in direct command.

Here is the nub of the war crimes theory. It is simply that for the commission of crimes there can be fixed a clear responsibility under existing concepts of law. The denial of the theory is based on a contention that for the bestiality and violence of war no one can be held responsible, because responsibility is shared equally by all members of society. This contention would relieve military commanders, politicians, even the individual perpetrators of brutality of all personal responsibility.

All those who are having trouble thinking their way through the proposition that aggressive war itself is a crime and that all further crimes committed in its prosecution should be punishable need to read samples of the evidence against Japan's Tomoyuki Yamashita—who didn't know what was going on under his command.

The Stars Say

For Tuesday, December 11.

JUDGING by the lunar transits of this day, it may be difficult to make much progress or gain much gratification or happiness from a generally blocked state of affairs, with confusion, perplexity and doubt prevailing. A tendency to scatter forces and funds as well as may be climaxed by bad judgment, criticism, jealousy and ill temper, a baneful combination culminating in hurts, disappointments, delays and regrets. Nervous tension and low health may be responsible.

Those whose birthday it is are urged to try to take it easy, and find relaxation, amusement and diversion from a state of general confusion, doubt, complications and impediments. It would be better to seek repose, enjoyment and constructive work rather than indulge in fits of bad temper, jealousy, enmity, and criticism, bound to have unhappy reactions on health, nerves, social or domestic relations.

As well, funds should be safeguarded and moods of extravagance, or indulgence suppressed, for pleasant and livable results. Sign all writings with particular caution.

A child born on this day may need early training and discipline, as it has tendency toward criticism, enmity, jealousy and fault-finding, to its detriment in financial and social loss of standing.

Solution For Middle-Ear Infection

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

WHEN an infection of the middle part of the ear occurs, it produces fever and pain in the ear. Secretions form in the middle ear and often the ear-drum must be cut open in order to permit the secretions to drain out.

As a general rule, the condition then gradually clears up. Treatment with the sulfonamide drugs, and penicillin may be found helpful. However, in many instances, the condition may become chronic, that is, long continued.

Chronic Running Ear
It has been found by Doctor Nehemiah Asherson of England, that eight out of every ten cases of chronic running ear in school children responded promptly to the use of a powder made up of iodine and boric acid. This powder was employed by blowing it into the ear. In some instances, it was necessary also to get rid of excessive scar tissue by applying a silver nitrate solution to the areas where it was located.

Doctor Asherson suggests that before operations are performed in cases of chronic running ear, at least 12 weeks of continuous treatment with the powder should be tried.

The powder is made by thoroughly mixing the iodine crystals with the boric acid powder. Since this type of treatment was originally suggested, some 4,000 children have been treated with it with satisfactory results, according to Doctor Arthur G. Wells, also of England.

Several Types
There would appear to be several types of chronic running ear. In one type, there is a small opening in the center of the ear-drum together with some infection of the middle ear and the eustachian tube which leads from the throat to the ear. This type appears to respond rapidly to the treatment with the boric-acid-iodine powder. Complications rarely occur in these cases and operations are rarely necessary.

In the second type of chronic running ear, there is infection of the middle ear together with the formation of excessive scar tissue. Treatment of the scar tissue and the use of the powder, it is stated, will clear up more than half of the cases. If there is a great deal of scar tissue present, an operation is usually required.

In some instances, small tumor

growths may appear in the ear

known as aural polyp. In such instances, operation is necessary.

With the proper treatment of acute middle-ear infections, the chronic type of the disorder may often be prevented. Should chronic running ear occur, the iodine-boric acid powder treatment would appear to be of value.

MAN HAD BRICK IN HIS STOMACH FOR TEN YEARS

Control Over Real Estate Needed, President Advises

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Unsen- sible construction activi- ties reported today as the cause of a "surge" in city housing costs, President Roosevelt said yesterday some sort of control over real estate was needed to bring down the cost of living.

Part of the bureau of labor statistics showed a "surge" of city housing costs under way in October, but that new dwellings were being built for little more than a year ago.

There are no longer any shortages in home construction, according to the bureau's report. It was begun in October—a year ago.

President told his new confer- ence that he knew just how construction of priorities would be but that the plan was to build materials were needed for residences.

Government officials have said the priority plan might be too low and moderately increase. Other types of con- trol would get what was left.

In a beautifully appointed candle light ceremony, Miss Katherine Louise Byers of Clyde, O., and Capt. Herbert Louis Shriver of Salem exchanged their marriage vows at 3:30 p. m. Saturday in the First Presbyterian church in Clyde. Rev. Halverson, the pastor, assisted by Chaplain Harry Griffin, officiated in the single ring ceremony.

The altar, banked with palms and white chrysanthemums, was lighted with the soft glow from white candles in seven-branch candelabra.

A program of nuptial music was offered while the guests assembled. It included "O Promise Me," "Because" and "Ave Maria."

The bride's father, Philip Leebick Byers, wore a lovely white satin gown. It was fashioned with a fitted bodice made with a marquisette yoke and long sleeves pointed at the wrist. The full skirt ended in a short train. Her finger-tip veil of illusion fell from a braided satin cap. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and white chrysanthemums tied with white satin ribbon.

Mrs. Frederick Mann, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Geraldine Byers of Columbus, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Stephen Brooks Longley of Charlottesville, Va., sister of the groom. Katherine Lou Mann, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

The bride's attendants were gowned alike in white silk jersey and carried bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums.

The flower girl appeared in white net with a satin bodice and carried a colonial bouquet.

Christian Church Class Celebrates

W. H. Matthews was a guest speaker at a tea given by the Loyal Women's class of the Christian church at 5:30 p. m. Sunday in the church to celebrate its 34th anniversary.

Matthews gave an interesting and instructive talk on "Salem's Immortal Citizen—Edwin Coppock."

Edwin Coppock, an ardent abolitionist of Civil War days, was with John Brown who led the raid at Harper's Ferry, W. Va., in October, 1859. He, with several others, was captured by the enemy. After a trial he was condemned and hung. His body was claimed by his uncle, Joshua Coppock, of Winona, and brought to his home for funeral service. The funeral was attended by 1,000 abolitionists and sympathizers. A second service was held in the city hall. It was the largest funeral ever held in Salem, with an attendance of 6,000. His body was interred in Hope cemetery.

Mrs. J. B. Engle, president of the class, welcomed the guests and presented Mrs. C. F. Evans, who announced the program and introduced the speaker.

Musical Selections Enjoyed

Use Foundation If Skin Is Dry

THE woman of 50 whose appearance defies the calendar, not only has kept her figure, but has exercised special care in her make-up. Not for anything does she ape the girlish styles of the eager teens. The smart mature woman plays up her chic and poise.

Though her skin is smooth, it generally has a tendency to be dry because of the slowed-up functioning of the oil glands. If this is your complaint, use a lightly tinted cream foundation—but use it sparingly. The easiest way to apply it is to dot cream across the forehead, cheeks and chin. Dip fingers in cold water to spread foundation evenly.

Adroit use of rouge gives a natural glow, but misapplied rouge can age a face several years. In applying cream rouge over film foundation, dot it on the cheek in

Pete Wiggers Is Expert On Car Ignition Problems

Ignition has been a specialty at the Wiggers Super Service stations for many years, and plus the experience gained during this time modern equipment to do the work right has been added until today no ignition problem or job is beyond the scope of Wiggers' regular service.

Correct ignition and carburetor adjustment represents nine-tenths of the economy in driving any car, and when both are correct the motor develops the most power and responds to the controls instantly.

Starting in cold weather is no problem if the ignition system is in perfect adjustment.

Pete Wiggers inspects many cars at regular intervals to keep them in the "pink of condition." You will find this method very satisfactory and less expensive in the long run.

(By Associated Press)
DAYTON, Dec. 10—Cargo glider parts, $485,000 worth, went up in smoke at Troy, O., Saturday, Dec. 15, ATSC officials at Wright field disclosed today.

The equipment, of no use to the AAF and unsalable even as scrap, comprises wings, elevators and rudders left over from the $30,000,000 glider building program at the Waco Aircraft Co. plant there.

This surplus was created when ATSC terminated its contract with Waco immediately after V-J day. At that time the contracts called for construction of 2,000 gliders intended for full scale Pacific offensives against the Japs. Of these approximately 1,500 CG-14 and CG-15A gliders had been delivered.

Germans Begin Move Back to Fatherland

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—One of the greatest organized mass movements of people in history — the transfers of at least 6,350,000 Germans back to Germany — is underway.

The state department announced yesterday the four major European allies have begun to bring back Germans from Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Austria.

Repatriates will continue to move into the shrunken Reich by foot, train and truck convey until August 1, 1946, when the migration is scheduled to be completed.

Some Germans have lived in their adopted countries for many years. Most, however, moved in on the heels of Hitler's aggressions.

Salem Tries Again At Opening Home Season With Lisbon

'Flu' Troubles Postponed Opener With Columbiana; Lisbon High Here Tuesday

Barring further interruptions from the current influenza epidemic, which caused postponement of the Salem-Columbiana game Saturday, Salem High's flu-weakened Quakers will tangle with a potentially dangerous Lisbon Blue Devil quintet at the high school gym at 8 p. m. tomorrow.

The reserve games on Tuesday nights are to begin at 7 this year, acuity Manager Fred Cope reminded fans again today, thus setting the starting time for varsity play at 8, instead of the regular 7:30 and 9 a. m. times observed in past years.

Coach Lyle Warren's Blue Devils will pose an interesting and difficult problem for Bob Miller's demites. Blessed with a lot of height, but actually no experience, Miller's new began operations at Ravenna Tuesday, winning 30-28 in a mewhat ragged exhibition.

The layout Saturday night won't be the local, but the cause of the roff definitely will be detrimental.

Illness Severe
Six varsity men were ill Saturday. Whether they will be sufficiently recovered to play their best tomorrow remains to be seen. At y rate, school officials have given indication that the game will be postponed.

Coach Warren's 1945-46 Blue Devils came well-armed with veterans from last year. Scott Robinson, Mike Smith, Tom Wetzel, Allen Webster and Walt Devitt were members of the 14-45 first ten and each saw a d share of varsity action. Lisbon has been surprising so, defeating Goshen easily in t opener and then whipping uthers in a prize-package vic-y, 32-28, in an overtime last esday at Lisbon.

Puffed Surprise
The Struthers win indicates the xer which may be in store for em here tomorrow. Struthers is rying three of its last year's rters into battle this year and esequently a favorite over the e Devils.

So far this season, in the two es played, Warren has consisty varied his quintet. Against uthers he started Flex Rutecki, bber, McDevitt, Kenny Woods l Robinson.

Shortly after the opening of the e he inserted an entirely new m, later mixed the two up and ally wound up with a quintet n both groups.

ust who will begin the game e is uncertain, but it is expectd that the original five from the uthers game will get the pre-e nod from the new Lisbon ntor.

Hopes For Starters
If illness hasn't riddled his agation too severely, Miller hopes e his first five, which includes) Pager, Mo Hollinger, John on, Tony Martinielli and Steve ula.

ibula and Martinielli are guards, llinger and Pridon forwards and er the center.

Lisbon uses Retuck and Web- at forwards, McDevitt at cen- and Woods and Robinson at the ds.

Lisbon encountered 'flu' troubles ay when they were to meet ch Charlie Mather's Leetonia t Leetonia. Because of a y flu rate at Leetonia the game postponed. Schools there closed ay and were to remain closed y this week, possibly opening rsday or Friday.

Reserves Favored
maker reserve ranks, also well eted Friday and Saturday, by e expected to be reasonably tocked this week with return- victims to meet the Lisbon gster squad.

lem's promising reserve outfit a pre-game favorite over the 2 Blue Devil squad, which suf- 1 a 22-5 shellacking against thers.

EIGHTEEN BATTLES ON DISTRICT CAGE SLATE THIS WEEK

Clippers, Lisbon, Salem Each Scheduled For Two Contests

Eighteen district cage games, involving every quintet in the county, are carded this week and will be played unless flu takes a hand and causes postponements as it did in many instances last week.

The Salem High Quakers will participate in two of these contests, playing host to the Lisbon Blue Devils and trekking to Wellsville to meet Coach Wally Ingals' Bengals Friday.

The game with Salem is one of two tilts on the Lisbon schedule this week. The Blue Devils meet Columbiana in a contest Friday on the Lisbon court.

Coach Johnny Cabas' Clippers open their schedule for the week Tuesday with New Waterford furnishing the opposition. Other contests slated for Tuesday are: Sebring at Alliance, Greenford at Leetonia, Midland, Pa., at Wellsville and McDonald at East Palestine.

Potters Open Season
East Liverpool inaugurates its 1945-46 campaign on its home court Friday against Midland, Pa. Coach Don Ogden of the Potters is awaiting the outcome of this clash anxiously since graduation of many of last year's Potter stars forced him to rebuild a new club, almost from scratch.

The Leetonia-Greenford game scheduled for Tuesday may not be played since the schools in both communities have been closed since last week because of flu. The Bears also meet Sallineville this week while Greenford is slated for a trip to Beloit Friday.

North Lima and Goshen meet Tuesday in a contest originally scheduled for last Friday but postponed because of the flu siege. The game will be the first of three this week for each team. North Lima faces New Waterford Friday and Fairfield Saturday while Goshen meets Sebring and North Jackson in addition to the North Lima tilt.

Alliance continues its season by playing Sebring Tuesday, Campbell Memorial Friday and Wadsworth Saturday.

Other cage tilts on the Friday card include: Canfield at Poland, Girard at Youngstown Rayen, Youngstown Ursuline at Warren, and Minerva at Carrollton.

College Football Attendance Shows Increase Over '45

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—College football, first sport to complete an entire season under post-war conditions, touched off the anticipated box office boom with a total attendance of 7,926,623, an increase of 42 per cent over 1944, in a survey of 79 representative major schools.

Based purely on home turnstile totals, Pennsylvania continued to show the way with a Franklin field gate of 477,000 for eight contests. In overall home and away figures Ohio State's $44,499 for nine contests was the best in the nation. Ohio State was second to Pennsylvania in home totals with 377,327 fans for six tilts at Columbus.

Army's home games, including the Navy clash in Philadelphia and New York City appearances against Duke, Notre Dame and Michigan, attracted a third place gate of 319,887. Michigan was fourth with California, U.C.L.A., Southern California, Tulane, Minnesota and Northwestern following in order to round out the top ten.

From coast to coast the average attendance at a college game was 20,589. Almost a third of the entire turnstile count came from the middle west.

Last year's grand total was 5,575,769, for an average of 15,896 per tilt.

Will Meet Cleveland Rams In Playoff Battle Sunday

By BUS HAM

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—With their fifth Eastern title tucked away, Washington's Redskins turned their eyes westward today for next Sunday's professional football championship clash with the Cleveland Rams.

Field General Sammy Baugh and his mates won the right to tackle the youthful Western champions by clinching the Eastern crown yesterday in a 17-0 victory over New York's Giants.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was in that capacity crowd of 34,788. As a more direct comparison between the Redskins and Rams, Cleveland shut out Washington by 21-0 in a September exhibition.

Since then, however, the more experienced Redskins have been bolstered by returning servicemen to a point where their running game in recent games has been almost as effective as Baugh's passing.

Nevertheless, the championship contest may develop into a duel between Baugh, veteran of nine league seasons and four previous playoffs, and Cleveland's new sensation, Bob Waterfield, a U. C. L. A. product.

The Rams will have two weeks of preparation behind them as they completed their schedule with a 20-7 victory over Boston Dec. 2.

The Redskins will work out here until Friday.

When the Redskins take on the Rams next Sunday, a pro record crowd of 80,000 is expected in Cleveland's vast Municipal stadium.

Out of this game may come something new in the annals of professional ball—the end of the virtual championship domination by four teams, Washington and New York's Giants in the East and Chicago's Bears and the Packers in the West.

Cleveland never has won the championship—never before has reached the playoff game.

But this season, the rambunctious Rams swept through nine of 10 league starts. Their only defeat was by Philadelphia, 28-14. The Redskins split with Philadelphia.

RAILROADING IS

People

Nothing in this world is as interesting as—people! Nothing is as important as people... people who live and grow, love and get married... people with their habits and manners, their likes and dislikes. Nothing really matters but—people.

The city? We think of it as people. The countryside is people. And so is the railroad... just folks—all of them!

Locomotives, cars, equipment... all these have been thought out, designed, engineered, developed and built by people for people. They are of value only as they serve people.

We of the Pennsylvania Railroad try to keep in mind always: everything we do is measured by how we help people, how we get along with people, how we treat people. Our greatest reward is in having people think well of us... because we have served them well!

Fire Razes Home, Three Are Killed

(By Associated Press)
FINDLAY, Dec. 10.—Triple funeral services will be held here tomorrow for three persons who perished in a fire that destroyed their two-story frame dwelling early Sunday morning.

Victims of the blaze, which firemen said they thought was caused by an exploding stove, were: Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Honse, and their 6-year-old grandson, Jack Markins.

The Honse's 23-year-old daughter, Lucille, was rescued by neighbors who hoisted a ladder to a second story window, but was slightly burned later trying to beat out flames enveloping her 58-year-old mother's night clothing. The mother died later in Findlay hospital.

From the daughter and neighbors, officials pieced together the following story of the tragedy: Honse, 65, awakened to find his downstairs bedroom filled with smoke and flames, and hurried upstairs to notify the other three.

After fleeing to safety himself, Honse noticed his grandson was missing and struggled back into the blazing inferno, but never returned.

POLICEMAN KILLS CLEVELAND THIEF

CLEVELAND, Dec. 10.—A fugitive burglar was shot fatally early today by Patrolman Richard Daley, 22-year-old rookie policeman and veteran gunner on a navy dive bomber, after the prowler failed to heed a command to halt.

Patrolman Daley said he shot Carl Long, 23, of suburban Chagrin Falls, who had been groping beneath the rear porch of a Cleveland home. Police earlier had found an automatic shotgun, stolen from a squad car, at the same spot.

In the wake of increased police activity, robberies and burglaries which netted more than $32,000 in loot the previous weekend, dropped this weekend to two robberies, eight burglaries and a purse snatching.
